

Fright In Streaks.

"Were you frightened, Willard?" asked Mr. Grimes of his little boy, whom he had sent on errand after dark. "Well, I should say so!" answered the little fellow. "The streaks of scariness just run up and down my legs."

Proposed Alliance with England.

If the United States and England should form an alliance, the combined strength would be so great that there would be little chance for enemies to overcome us. In a like manner, when men and women keep up their bodily strength with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, there is little chance of attacks from disease. The old time remedy enriches the blood, builds up the muscles, steadies the nerves and increases the appetite. Try it.

American apples have already, in a large measure, conquered the markets of England.

Every Action

And every thought requires an expenditure of vitality which must be restored by means of the blood flowing to the brain and other organs. This blood must be pure, rich and nourishing. It is made so by Hood's Sarsaparilla which is thus the great strength-giving medicine, the cure for weak nerves, that tired feeling and all diseases caused by poor, impure blood.

The Sentinel's Orders.

When Professor Simon Newcomb, the distinguished astronomer, was at Gibraltar, he was one morning "taking the sun" in order to test the running of his chronometer, when a sentinel speedily informed him that no sights were allowed to be taken on the fortification. Professor Newcomb explained that he was taking sights on the sun, not on the fortifications. But he was inexorable; the rule was that no sights of any sort should be taken without a permit. When Professor Newcomb met Sir Fenwick Williams, of Kark, then military governor of Gibraltar, they laughed together over the incident, and Sir Fenwick said it reminded him of the case of an old lady in Punch who had to pass a surveyor in the street behind a theodolite, and begged: "Please, sir, don't shoot till I get past!"—New York World.

A Large Cargo.

The largest cargo ever carried on the great lakes was loaded into the Superior City at South Chicago recently. It consisted of 266,550 bushels corn, weighing 7,462 tons and was loaded in seven hours.

TO MRS. PINKHAM

From Mrs. Walter E. Budd, of Pat- chogue, New York.

Mrs. BUDD, in the following letter, tells a familiar story of weakness and suffering, and thanks Mrs. Pinkham for complete relief:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I think it is my duty to write to you and tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I feel like another woman. I had such dreadful headaches through my temples and on top of my head, that I nearly went crazy; was also troubled with chills, was very weak; my left side from my shoulders to my waist pained me terribly. I could not sleep for the pain. Plasters would help for a while, but as soon as taken off, the pain would be just as bad as ever. Doctors prescribed medicine, but it gave me no relief.

"Now I feel so well and strong, have no more headaches, and no pain in side, and it is all owing to your Compound. I cannot praise it enough. It is a wonderful medicine. I recommend it to every woman I know."

PILES

"I suffered the tortures of the damned with protruding piles brought on by constipation. I ran across your CASCARETS in the town of Newell, Ia., and never found anything to equal them. To-day I am entirely free from piles and feel like a new man."

THE ILLINOIS LAUNCHED.

Magnificent Battleship is Christened at Newport News.

Newport News, Va., was thronged with visitors from far and near Tuesday, who were present to witness the launching of the battleship Illinois. Chicago and Washington were represented by large delegations of prominent men and women; while the nearby cities and villages practically emptied themselves of their population in order to assist the state of Illinois in honoring the baptism of the great ship, which is to bear the name of the prairie state.

A conservative estimate places the crowd of visitors at fully 20,000, and it is believed that fully 30,000 persons witnessed the ceremonies attending the launching.

Among the prominent persons from the national capital was Assistant Secretary of the Navy Allen, Commodore and Mrs. M. T. Endicott, Captain A. S. Crowninshield, Paymaster General Edwin Stewart, Engineer in Chief Geo. W. Melville, Surgeon General W. K. Van Reypen and wife, Chief Constructor Philip Hiebhorn and wife, Captain and Mrs. Samuel C. Lemley, Judge Advocate, Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and daughter, Assistant Secretary of War John D. Meikeljohn, Hon. Martin Knapp and wife and J. D. Yeoman and wife.

The big battleship was launched at 12:33 amid the applause of thousands gathered. The ship was christened by Miss Nancy Leiter, of Chicago, who used champagne.

The battleship Illinois is the largest and most powerful ship of her class yet built for the government.

The plans on which she was constructed differ in many ways from those of the Iowa and Oregon. The vessel is known as a double-turreted battleship. She will carry only two turrets, in which four 13-inch guns mounted in pairs will be placed. The other guns of the main battery will be distributed on the main, spar and forward decks. They will be protected from the fire of an enemy by heavy armor plates.

The ship will be 368 feet in length, with a beam of 72 feet and a depth of 23 feet 6 inches. Her engines are of the triple expansion vertical type and were built to develop 10,000 horsepower, which will give the ship an estimated speed of a little more than 16 knots.

The armament will consist of four 13 inch guns, fourteen 6 inch, seventeen 6 pounders, one boat or field gun, four machine guns and four torpedo tubes. It is estimated that the ship when completed will cost about $3,000,000. She will carry a complement of 500 officers and men and about 100 marines.

SOLDIER SHOTS CIVILIAN.

Both Were Prisoners at the Time In Atlanta Police Barracks.

At the police barracks at Atlanta Tuesday afternoon D. P. Phillips, a soldier from the Second Georgia, fired a shot into the face of Claude Love, a citizen under arrest, who was standing in the prison corridor. Love had just given the drunken soldier a drink of water.

The shooting created quite a sensation owing to the fact that it had occurred inside the city prison. No cause is assigned for the deed.

Love was sent to the city hospital, where he was pronounced not seriously hurt, although his escape from death was only due to the fact that the bullet had glanced around the cheek bone.

The affair is to be the subject of an official investigation which is to be demanded by the lieutenant in charge of the provost guard, who states that he knows the turkey at the police barracks was to blame for allowing a prisoner to enter a cell without being searched.

The officials at the barracks say that the provost guard is to blame, and that the soldiers ought to have been searched by the guard.

The difference of opinion is likely to result in a very interesting investigation.

MAY RESCUE VIZCAYA.

Hobson Is Confident That He Can Save the Spanish Battleship.

A dispatch of Tuesday from Santiago states that Naval Constructor Hobson is taking the guns of the Vizcaya to Guantanamo, after which he will return to the scene of the wreck and endeavor to raise the vessel. He thinks it probable that he will succeed.

COLONEL ANDEL GUILTY.

Commander of Fourth Illinois Suspended For Six Months By Courtmartial.

The findings of the courtmartial at Jacksonville, Fla., in the cases of the Fourth Illinois officers have been published at corps headquarters. Colonel Casimir Andel, who is cashier of the First National bank of Belleville, Ill., was found guilty of conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline in violation of the sixty-second article of war and was ordered to be suspended from his rank and command for the period of six months and to forfeit half of his pay during that time. He was also found guilty of several specifications in the charges.

PRINTERS MAY STRIKE.

Union at Columbus, Ohio, Demands a Nine-Hour Work Day.

November 1 is the date set by the Columbus, Ohio, typographical union for the concerted movement looking to a nine-hour day in book and job offices. It is hardly thought that a general strike will result, but in anticipation of the unexpected an assessment of 1 per cent is being levied on the printers' earnings as a defense fund.

A Soldier's Escape.

From the Democrat-Messenger, Mt. Sterling, Ill.

When Richmond had fallen and the great commanders had met beneath the historic apple tree at Appomattox, the 93d Pennsylvania Volunteers, prematurely aged, died in tears and rage, taken in body but of dauntless spirit, swung into line for the last "grand re-charge" and then quietly marched away to begin life's fray anew amid the hills and valleys of the Keystone State.

Among the number was Robinson came back to the old home in Mt. Sterling, Ill., back to the town in which he had left at the call to arms four years previous. He went a way a happy, healthy, contented boy in the first flush of vigorous manhood; he came back a ghost of the self that answered to President Lincoln's call for "800,000 more."

To-day he is an alert, active man and tells the story of his recovery as follows: "I was a great sufferer from sciatic rheumatism almost from the time of my discharge from the army. Most of the time I was unfitted for manual labor of any kind, and my sufferings were at all times intense. At times I was bent almost double, and got around only with the greatest difficulty. Nothing seemed to give me permanent relief until three years ago, when my attention was called to some of the wonderful cures effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I had not taken more than half a box when I noticed an improvement in my condition, and I kept on improving steadily. I took three boxes of the pills, and at the end of that time was in better condition than at any time since the close of my army service. Since then I have never been bothered with rheumatism. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People is the only remedy that ever did me any good, and to them I owe my restoration to comparative health. They are a grand remedy."

A Descendant of Louis XVI. Society in Holland and Belgium has been a little interested in the recent adventures of the so-called Prince de Bourbon, who was for some time an officer in the Dutch army. The individual in question is the grandson of the watchmaker Naundorff, who claimed to be the legitimate representative of Louis XVI., and who was acknowledged as such by King William III. of the Netherlands. The watchmaker's grandson entered the Dutch army and rose to the rank of Lieutenant, but because he had taken a dislike to his profession or for some other reason he deserted and fled to France.

There he found some persons who believed in him as the true representative of the Bourbons, and who helped him to enter business as a wine merchant. In this he was not successful, and the next news heard of him was his arrest in the streets of The Hague, where he has just been sentenced to four months' imprisonment in the fortress of Groningen.—London Globe.

A Manifestation of English Friendship.

Can America ever forget the part the English have taken in this war? If one can forget kindness, then we can forget the English; otherwise, we must hold them in mind as steadfast friends, who have done everything to aid us without grossly violating the neutrality laws. Our ships have not been supposed to coat and provision at Kingston, Jamaica, but they have done so all the same. Here is a story showing how a friend may be blinded to our faults at times. An American cruiser was coaling at Kingston. A British cruiser was lying in port.

"What is that boat doing over there?" inquired the English captain. "I suppose it is coaling, sir," replied the first officer. "Coaling?" repeated the English captain. "That cannot be. Send a man at once to see what that boat is doing."

So a sailor was dispatched. He watches the American boat for half an hour or so, understanding a thing or two himself, and then returns. He presents himself to his captain to make a report. "Well, sir, what is that American cruiser doing?" asks the captain.

"Coaling, sir, I believe," replies the sailor.

"Believe! Don't you know what the boat is doing? You are stupid, sir. Send me a man who knows something," turning to an officer. So another sailor is called up. He is instructed to go at once and find out what the American boat is doing in the harbor. The second sailor goes away and does not hurry himself about getting back. During this time the American boat is coaled up, and when he finally makes his report, it is too late. He tries to find his captain, but the latter is buried somewhere in the recesses of his cabin. When the captain finally does come on deck the American is far out at sea.

That closes the incident.—Chicago Tribune.

MRS. PINKHAM TALKS TO THE FUTURE WOMAN.

Will the New Generation of Women be More Beautiful or Less So? Miss Jessie Ebnor's Experience.

A pleasing face and graceful figure! These are equipments that widen the sphere of woman's usefulness. How can a woman have grace of movement when she is suffering from some disorder that gives her those awful bearing-down sensations? How can she retain her beautiful face when she is nervous and racked with pain?

Young women, think of your future and provide against ill health. Mothers, think of your growing daughter, and prevent in her as well as in yourself irregularity or suspension of nature's duties.

If puzzled, don't trust your own judgment. Mrs. Pinkham will charge you nothing for her advice; write to her at Lynn, Mass., and she will tell you how to make yourself healthy and strong.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound strengthens the female organs and regulates the menses as nothing else will. Following is a letter from Miss JESSIE EBNOR, 1712 West Jefferson St., Sandusky, Ohio.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to let you know of the great benefit your remedies have been to me. I suffered for over a year with inflammation of the ovaries. I had doctored, but no medicine did me any good. Was at a sanatorium for two weeks. The doctor thought an operation necessary, but I made up my mind to give your medicine a trial before submitting to that. I was also troubled with leucorrhoea, painful menstruation, dizziness, nervousness, and was so weak that I was unable to stand or walk. I have taken in all several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and am now in good health. I will always give your medicine the highest praise."
